Nation's Best Consumer Health Information Materials Recognized By 22nd Annual National Health Information Awards<sup>SM</sup> Program

Libertyville, IL—The nation's best consumer health information programs and materials produced in 2014 have been announced following the 22nd annual National Health Information Awards (NHIA) program held in late spring, 2015. Entries were submitted by a wide variety of leading organizations in the consumer health field. This awards program, the most comprehensive competition of its kind, is organized by the Health Information Resource Center<sup>SM</sup>, a national clearinghouse for consumer health information programs and materials. See a complete list of 2015 winners and judges at healthawards.com/2015winners.

The judges, a panel of health information experts, selected gold, silver, bronze and merit winners. Entries included brochures, audio/video, newspaper and magazine articles, books, and other media from hospitals, publishers, ad agencies, trade associations, etc. According to Patricia Henze, Executive Director of the Health Information Resource Center, these awards set an industry standard of quality for consumer health materials, and this 'seal of quality' helps health professionals find the best consumer health information resources for their programs.

All Gold Award recipients, which represent the top five percent of all entries, were reviewed by a special panel of judges for the Best of Show Award. The 2015 Best of Show Prize winners are DaVita Healthcare Partners for "Patient Education Marketing Program," Headcan Health Education Media for "The ABCs of Diabetes," and March of Dimes for "My 9 Months/Mis 9 Meses."

In addition to presenting the National Health Information Awards and Digital Health Awards programs, the Health Information Resource Center (HIRC) is the coordinator of two national health and fitness events. National Women's Health & Fitness Day<sup>SM</sup> is held the last Wednesday in September with the goal of promoting the importance of health awareness and regular physical activity for women of all ages.
