Winners Announced for 24th Annual Digital Health Awards® (Spring Session)

LIBERTYVILLE, IL – The Health Information Resource CenterSM announced the winners in the spring session of its 24th annual Digital Health Awards® which honors the world's best digital health resources. The competition, which is held twice yearly, featured 65 categories in the following entry classifications: Web-based Digital Health; Mobile Digital Health Resources; Personal Digital Health Devices / Wearables; Digital Health Media / Publications; Digital Health – Social Media; and Connected Digital Health. A panel of 57 experts in digital health media served as judges and selected gold, silver, bronze, and merit winners from nearly 700 entries.

Spring 2022 Gold Award winners included Everyday Health (Article); AARP (Newsletter); Anthem (Mobile Application); Breastcancer.org (Website); University of Texas MD Anderson Cancer Center (Video); Russell Herder (Interactive Content/Rich Media); and Anesthesiology News (Audio Series). A complete list of winners and entry categories can be found at digitalhealthawards.com.

The Health Information Resource CenterSM (HIRC), organizer of the Digital Health Awards, is a national information clearinghouse for professionals who work in consumer health fields. Other well-known HIRC programs include the annual National Health Information AwardsSM (healthawards.com), which annually recognizes the nation's best consumer health information (in non-digital formats).
